Door Number 3

Over the last year this amazing team, your Board of Directors, has been working hard to support and keep our flagship event Meeting of the Minds moving forward. While we got the general PHiP work done, MOTM is the show that must go on...and it did in a big way! Our Co-Chairs pulled off an incredible event that still has people smiling and talking, and asking...how do we top that? Have no fear, the magic is in the air! Isn't it obvious from the picture of Jimmy Buffett holding our birthday card to him?

We know we can pull off an incredible MOTM, so what comes next? For everyone that sat in on the breakout sessions, you heard and saw the future of our website and designs, and the team has brought in more of our Parrothead Phamily to help design and program. What our clubs and regions need is support from us to help retain and grow our Parrothead Clubs. While I am not the technical person in the bunch, I have taken on finding ways to help you, our clubs. What will this include? Here is a short list of what is behind door number 3!

- A fresh and dynamic new look
- Up to date information and social media all in one place
- Pertinent club benefits like Feed the Frenzy info
- Club members only discounts!
- PHiP Sponsorship of regional or Club events
- Contact information for club leaders, musicians, house concerts, and more!
- Easy ways for new members to find a home club and JOIN!
- Easier ways for clubs to renew membership and track yearly
- Renewed MOTM page!

This is the beginning, and we are looking at ways to creatively support you. Without Parrotheads, and Parrothead clubs, we do not have a PHiP. It is coming faster than you think, and we are excited about what 2022 holds for all of us! Fins up with a bottle of rum!

Billy Brehm, President Parrot Heads in Paradise, Inc.

The Masthead ... A blustery day on the beach, the Trade Winds blowing hard. It's hard to reason with the season, but I must confess, we could use some rest. So relax and enjoy the Tradewind Times.

Chicago PHC Wins Golden Coconut

Every year Meeting of the Minds features a panoply of the biggest names in the Trop Rock music genre, but perhaps the most eagerly and anxiously awaited moment comes on Saturday morning when the Golden Coconut is awarded. This whimsical trophy has been awarded since 1996 by PHiP and Margaritaville to the club best epitomizing the spirit and charitable contributions of all Parrot Head clubs in a blind essay submitted to a panel of judges.

This year's winning club was the Chicago Parrot Head club, becoming the fourth club to win the coconut twice.

In winning the award Chicago PHC started with an impressive resume of charitable and environmental fundraising and service. Some of the charities supported by Chicago PHC were a local food bank, an animal rescue mission, an after school program for inner city youth, a highway clean up program, a care facility for the developmentally disabled, Alzheimer's Association, Toys for Tots, and even the local zoo. Chicago Parrotheads donated not just money but themselves to these causes.

Chicago Parrotheads combined their charity work with a wide variety of entertainment from pool parties to Hawaiian themed monthly meetings to organizing and hosting one of the largest Trop Rock events in the country. All this was accomplished despite the continuation of the difficulties of the Covid-19 environment.

In the end however, the Golden Coconut award is an essay contest, and Chicago PHC put together a whimsical tale narrated by a parrot observing from above. The story is loaded with lyrics and references to many Buffett songs. Read this year's winning essay here and see how many songs you can identify.

So let's all raise our margarita glasses and give a big Phins Up to this year's Golden Coconut award winners, the Chicago PHC, for a job well done and well written.

He Oughta Be (and Has Been) in Pictures

It's a common feature of American culture. Whenever people acquire a degree of fame, their desires often turn to being in the movies.

Singers want to become actors. Actors feel the urge to sing. Jimmy Buffett is no exception. Over the years Buffett has been in a number of motion pictures, mostly in cameo roles.

Buffett's first movie role came as a result of his friendship with Tom McGuane. McGuane was Buffett's landlord in Key West during Buffett's early days there, and they became friends, a good thing too since McGuane later married Buffett's sister Laurie.

McGuane was a novelist and screenwriter and had written a script for a quirky Western comedy about cattle rustlers titled Rancho Deluxe. Buffett was signed on to write the musical soundtrack, and in the summer of 1974, he, future wife Jane Slagsvol and Roxy Rodgers drove out to Livingston, Montana where the movie was being filmed. Livingston Saturday Night was the most memorable song, and Buffett performs the song in the movie as a country western singer in a rowdy bar in Livingston.

Buffett repeated his performance in the 1978 film FM, a comedy/drama about the internal conflicts at an FM radio station. His appearance in the film wasn't especially noteworthy, however. Also performing in FM were Tom Petty, Linda Ronstadt and REO Speedwagon.

Buffett didn't appear on the silver screen again until 1984 when he began a series of cameo appearances. First was in Repo Man, a low budget flick about a repossession agency attempting to obtain a 1964 Chevy Malibu with a top secret cargo in the trunk. Buffett appeared in the film as one of the repossession agents.

Buffett later appeared as a shoe stealing pirate in the 1991 fantasy Hook, and in the 1994 baseball flick Cobb as the armless heckler Ty Cobb attacks in the stands.

If you are especially attentive when you go to the movies, you might have noticed Buffett as a 727 pilot in the 1995 adventure, Congo, and as a marine studies teacher in the 2006 film, Hoot.

Product placement is a big money maker in movies today, and the Isla Nublar resort in the 2015 hit, Jurassic World, had enough big name retailers to fill an upscale shopping mall, one of which was Margaritaville. When the flying, carnivorous, pteranodons escape the aviary and begin attacking the tourists, a bartender, who looks a lot like Jimmy Buffett, can be seen fleeing Margaritaville with a margarita in each hand. As is typical for him, he forgot to save the shaker of salt.

Granted, Buffett's appearances in motion pictures have been brief. However, his roles have been more lasting on the small screen. Buffett appears in seven episodes of the series, Hawai'i Five-O, as helicopter pilot Frank Bama.

Buffett's most recent acting role was as himself, with a bit of a twist, in the January 14th episode of police drama, Blue Bloods. If any Parrotheads missed it, they should catch it when it become available for streaming and enjoy the phun.

Alzheimer's Walk 2021 Season Wrap Up

by Bob Noonan

The Alzheimer's Association is the leading voluntary health organization in Alzheimer's care, support, and research. The Association's vision is a world without Alzheimer's and all other dementia.

I want to thank all members and nonmembers of Parrothead clubs for an outstanding Alzheimer's Walk 2021. As a nationwide organization, we raised $168,908.00. This year we had 51 clubs and over 400 club members participating in 2021 Walks around the nation. PHIP goal was $100,000.00 (Silver Level for Alzheimer Walks) and we of course flew way past our goal. We also placed number 15 in the top 50 organizations in the country that raise money to fight this disease. Our motto is "Party with a Purpose"; we sure did and raised a record amount of money for the awareness and possibly a cure of Alzheimer's.

Below is a list of some outstanding fundraising Parrotheads.

Thank you again for all your Time, Treasure and Talent in helping to stop Alzheimer's in our lifetime. I will send a notice to all the clubs when it's time to start rallying the troops for another year's effort to end this disease. I can be reached through the leaders' board, or the Chicago Parrot Head club if you need more assistance or information.

Celebrating the Holidays Parrothead Style

During the holiday season, many Parrothead clubs celebrated with a year end party, raising funds for their favorite charities while enjoying all the seasonal festivities.

Cincinnati PHC's Holiday Party With A Purpose included a White Elephant Gift exchange, plenty of tasty treats, some festive beverages, and a check presentation to one of their favorite charities, the Pink Ribbon Girls.

Parrot Head Club of Tidewater celebrated both the holidays and their 25th anniversary year with a Christmas Party and white elephant gift swap at their local Wild Wings in Virginia Beach on December 15.

The Eastpoint Florida Forgotten Coast Parrot Head Club celebrated the holidays by gathering at the Carrabelle Boat Club for some phood, phun and reindeer games. The group filled the Giving Tree with $381 for the Elderly Community Care Council of Franklin County, Florida.

Milwaukee Area Parrotheads hosted their annual Holiday Luau and Toys for Tots event on December 11th. The night opened with music by Jim Hoehn and followed by the party music of The Boat Drunks. They had a buffet dinner, 50/50 raffle and many fantastic silent auction items. Because of this event, they were able to collect about $9000 worth of new toys to give to the Fox Company Marines in Milwaukee to distribute to the community.

Galveston Bay PHC celebrated the holidays as well as their club's 26th birthday with music by the Buffett tribute band, Lost Shaker of Salt. Awards were presented to club members for their service and enthusiasm, and $2,190 was raised for Galveston Blue Santa.

San Antonio Parrotheads Enjoy a Busy Fall Helping Others

Summers in San Antonio are hot. When cool weather finally arrives, it's time to put away the flip flops and enjoy drinks and dinner in one of the outdoor cafes along the Riverwalk. For San Antonio PHC club members it's also a great time to get involved in community service activities.

In October, they collected toys for children at the San Antonio Inner City Development Center. There was $1,120 in cash and toys donated that night. Additionally, their tailgate group donated $175 worth of Blankets to San Antonio Municipal Ministries.

In November, they collected items to support the Chiwawa Dog Rescue organization with $400 cash donated and $160 of supplies provided, they started their annual coat drive to help the homeless and others in need of warm outerwear and had a volunteer work day at the San Antonio Food Bank.

In December, SAPHC members had a Highway Clean up along an assigned two miles of road, raised $320 from raffles for the charity of the month San Antonio Food Bank, helped at the Elf Louise warehouse to close up the gift distribution facility and worked at Soldiers Angels on Dec 9 and Dec 15 stuffing and packing Christmas stockings for veterans and deployed troops.

In the midst of a pandemic, hardy groups of partiers still found ways to provide much needed help to their communities. They are known as Parrot Heads. These are their stories .

The Central Illinois Parrot Head Club volunteered at the Ann Benjamin TCRC camp picnic on September 24. They conducted games and activities for the special needs young adults in the program.

Five members attended the Walk to End Alzheimer's in Peoria, Illinois on October 2 and raised $730.

The club donated $100 of toys, and 109 coloring books and crayons to the Childrens' Hospital of Illinois.

The Padre Island Parrot Head Club of CC collected Non-Perishable Pantry Supplies for Flour Bluff Kinder Food Pantry, collected toys for Toys for Tots and bought a Christmas Tree to be decorated (club members providing Tropical Christmas Ornaments) which was auctioned with monies going to Timon's Ministries. They adopted a family of seven and provided them with Christmas Dinner and donated Christmas Gifts to Ronald McDonald House in Corpus Christi, TX.

Chicago Parrot Head Club is happy to report the final numbers from Summer Chi.ill in August that raised $18,881 for Cornerstone Services, Inc. They also raised $12,380 for their Alzheimer's Walk Team in October, and donated $500 to the Chicago Zoological Society. They decorated a large Christmas Tree at the zoo as a club social in November. Their last charity function was at their Club Holiday meeting and everyone bought and donated new, unwrapped toys for Toys for Tots! A great way to end the year! Happy Holidays!

The New Smyrna Beach Parrot Head Club has been busy helping local charities at Sofie's Circle, local Humane Society in New Smyrna, helping Homeless Pets, and by helping the Boys and Girls Club of Volusia / Flagler Counties by gathering up a bunch of Toys for the Boys and Girls.

Despite the many rules surrounding COVID, from Oct-Dec, London (Canada) Parrothead Club still managed to do a cleanup of their adopted park, supported a sock drive for the homeless by collecting 146 pairs of socks and supported a local food drive.

Phlock of South Jersey had a beach clean-up on October 23 at Brigatine Beach in Brigatine, New Jersey.

Then on December 12 they had their annual Christmas Party. They collected $520.00 worth of toys for Toys For Tots, $85.00 for the South Jersey Food Bank, $20.00 for the Blackwood, NJ Food Bank and $30.00 for Philabundance of South Jersey Drive.

Over 110 San Diego Parrot Head Club members and guests attended their annual Charity Dinner at Fast Times in Clairemont Mesa. Entertainment was by Classic Buzz. Fast Times provided fine food, and donated $6 of each dinner sold to their charity, Lions, Tigers and Bears. The charity is dedicated to providing lifetime care to abused and abandoned exotic animals, and to inspiring an educational forum to end the exotic animal trade. They raised $3100 for this charity.
